CLAIMS

What is claimed is:

1.   In a first computer, a method of providing a print status, comprising:

       (a)   receiving content from an external device, the content executable by a computer to cause a computer to display a print status page based upon dynamic input received from a printer printing a print job received from the computer; and

       (b)   executing the content so as to generate the print status page.

2.   A computer, comprising:

       (a)   means for receiving content from an external device, the content being executable to cause the computer to display a print status page based upon dynamic input received from a printer printing a print job received from the computer; and

       (b)   means for executing the content so as to generate the print status page.

3.   A program storage medium readable by a computer, tangibly embodying a program of instruction executable by the computer to perform method steps display a printer status page, the method steps comprising:

       (a)   receiving content from an external device, the content executable by a computer to cause a computer to display a print status page based upon dynamic input received from a printer printing a print job received from the computer; and

       (b)   executing the content so as to generate the print status page.

           Case 10007660-1